

BRIEFLETS.

—Choose a May Queen.
—The swimmers are coming out of winter quarters.
—There is sometimes rest for the wicked but it is an art-rest.
—April and her thirty children start off to-day for a year's absence.
—The old postoffice is being filled up with the grocery stock of A. D. Sanborn & Son.

—It's all right now to speak of the silvery rays of the moon giving forth a tender light.

—If they can only make hay while the sun shines, there is at present a slim prospect for that kind of fodder.

—Mr. C. P. Clough and Mr. E. W. Childs leave to-day for Rochester, Minn., where they are going to look after horse-flesh.

—Ed. Reed, who has for a long time beaten the drum in the Bower City Band, leaves to-morrow for Kansas, where he expects to reside permanently.

—The County Board of Supervisors hold a special meeting to-morrow, at which time there will be some interesting discussions held, and some important measures taken.

—Several business men who have been figuring over their books say that their trade is much better than at the corresponding time last year, and the future looks brighter.

—A new counterfeiter of the $1 bill of the Merchant's National Bank, of New Bedford, Conn., has been put upon the market. The newsmen should look out now how they make change.

—Dr. Bullis, John Dewey and Frank Jones were arrested to-day on the charge of drunkenness and fast driving, and will be brought up before Justice Pritchard to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

—Two canines, one belonging to Mr. Nash and the other to Mike Farrell, had a lively tussle this morning, and finally succeeded in breaking out one of the large panes of glass in Nash's grocery store. No arrests.

—Howard W. Lee, for a long time agent of the United States Express Company in this city, and who of late has been making Milwaukee his abiding place, has returned to Janesville, and proposes to again make this his home.

—About fifty young people gathered last evening in the parlors of Mr. E. G. Fife's residence and enjoyed the hospitalities there afforded, consisting of a bounteous repast, dancing, and pastimes. The occasion was a happy one.

—The sad news is reported from Beloit that B. F. Barnes, an old and respected citizen of that place, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He was 67 years of age. He was the father of Mr. K. O. Barnes, who keeps a meat market on West Milwaukee street.

—A young man named Curtis, employed in Hunkins' marble shop, had his coat stolen out of the shop, to-day noon, while he was at dinner. A pocketbook went with the coat, containing a few papers of value only to the owner, and about $2 in money.

—We are informed that bills for gas consumed on and after this date, will be discounted for prompt payment, at the rate of one dollar per thousand feet instead of fifty cents as heretofore, which makes the net price for gas in our city only $3.00 per thousand feet. This is remarkably cheap.

—One of Burr Robbins' employees carelessly left his satchel beside the fence in the street near the Spring Brook farm yesterday, while he went to the office to attend to some business. On his return the satchel was gone. It contained about $35 worth of clothing. The satchel did not probably go off without legs and the officers are hunting for the owner of said legs.

—The Advisory Committee of the red-ribbon movement met this afternoon in the rooms of the Young Men's Association, and discussed at length the advisability of effecting a permanent organization. It was finally decided to do so to-night. Rev. Mr. Sawin was selected to preside at the meeting in Lippin's Hall to-night, and after this the regular officers of the Club are to preside.

—Mr. Alexander McAlpin was out for a ride last evening with a horse and buggy belonging to Mr. C. T. Wilcox. He hitched the steed to a post near the brewery, and left it standing there for a few minutes, long enough at least to induce the nag to make a break for home. The break was a successful one, and included the buggy which was found near by, while the nag, relieved of its rolling stock, jogged to the stable unharmed, except a few scratches.

—It is reported that a young lady named Miss Ella Hawkes, a daughter of Dr. Hawkes, of Arlington Heights, was run over yesterday morning by the Janesville accommodation train, and so badly mangled that she lived but an hour after the accident. It seems that she was about to board the train at a station a short distance from Chicago, but was rather late. She tried to cross in front of the engine as it started out, and was caught, and fell under the wheels, the whole train except one coach passing over her, cutting off both limbs and horribly mauling her.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 57 degrees above zero and at 2 o'clock at 74 degrees above. Cloudy. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 31 and 40 degrees above.

The indications are, stationary pressure and temperature, partly cloudy weather, occasional rains and variable winds.

READY TO ORGANIZE.

There was not as large a gathering as was expected in Lippin's hall last evening, at the red ribbon meeting. Still it was an enthusiastic gathering, and Dr. McCollister spoke with usual zeal. He announced that about 1,200 had already put their names to the pledge, and that this week would close his labors in this place. At the meeting to-night a permanent organization will be effected, so that every one who is interested should surely attend. The plan is that already given in the Gazette, but its details will be arranged for more explicitly.

A CITY OF CANVAS.

Burr Robbins' Great American and German Allied Show Starts out on the Road to-day. The Preparations and Packings at the Spring Brook Farm.

These latter days have been busy ones at Burr Robbins' Spring Brook Farm. There has been a hurrying to and fro, and to the casual observer it seemed confusion, worse confounded. There has been one man, however, who has kept his head clear and his hand firm. In the hubbub and commotion incident to the work of preparing and packing the paraphernalia of a circus and menagerie about to start out on its summer campaign, Mr. Robbins seemed to show more than in any other position, his wonderful tact, energy and ability as a manager. Not a bucket or a strap, not a piece of canvas or a pole seemed to escape his personal notice. Surrounded by a crowd of employees, each with some question apparently all-important to him, and each anxious for a speedy answer, without any hesitancy, directions concerning the minutest details were dealt out to the applicants, and away would go Mr. Robbins to some other part of the farm, soon to be surrounded by another crowd, to be dispersed in like manner. No one unless he has been there himself can imagine the stir and hurry incident to getting ready for the road. To the outsider all at first sight seems confusion, but a closer insight shows that everything, though moving hurriedly, is being done as by clock-work. Every department has its overseer, and every man his place, and the force is thoroughly organized and disciplined.

Added to the other perplexities are hundreds of curious visitors, all of whom expect to receive in reply to their questions satisfactory answers that turn away wrath. Sunday last there were about a thousand who sought admission to the farm, and yesterday also there were far too many for convenience sake, but still none had any cause of complaint on account of any ungentlemanly conduct on the part of manager or employees. In fact it is quite a remarkable feature of Mr. Robbins' management that at the very time where there is so much to harass and perplex the soul of the stowman, one hears none of that filthiness or profanity which characterize so many enterprises of that magnitude.

This is largely due to the fact that Mr. Robbins will not employ loafers or vagabonds, no matter how daintily dressed or gaudily bejeweled. Rich or poor, large or small he taboos the whole class, and takes great pride in being able to gather about him men who know how to be gentlemen. The employees number about 150, and while, of course, it is impossible to get all first class men, yet Mr. Robbins does his level best in that respect. He enters into a written contract with each man, one clause of which is that they shall, while in his employ, abstain from using intoxicants as a beverage, and shall conduct themselves at all times with gentlemanly deportment and propriety. The employees also agree to abide by the established rules, which are very stringent in regard to all such points, and which subject the offenders to fines for unseemly conduct of any kind, including "mashing." In fact, a man who doesn't want to try to be a gentleman, might as well get another job.

The farm yesterday presented the appearance of a little city of canvas. It requires about three acres to pitch the tents, the main ones of which are about 250 feet by 125 feet, and which cover the menagerie and the ring. Besides these are the horse tents, numbering five, a dining tent for the working force, to say nothing of the side-shows and smaller canvas. The main tent can accommodate about 6,000 people.

The company is doubtless the strongest and best which Mr. Robbins ever placed on the road, which is saying a great deal, as his show in previous seasons has been hard to beat, but this season it will be even superior to any yet sent out. Last evening Mr. Robbins' people gathered for a rehearsal, and showed up surprisingly strong, and as soon as they get fairly at work will furnish doubtless one of the best entertainments that ever was sheltered by canvas.

The menagerie also has been vastly improved by the addition of some of the most remarkable animals in the world, and presents as large a variety and as great curiosities as any show on wheels. In order to draw this little city from place to place, and to conduct properly the entertainment, it requires, besides the employees who number about 150, over 200 horses, and 58 wagons, making one of the finest street parades to be witnessed in the West. As a little item of interest, it may be stated that it requires three tons of hay daily to keep the horses, besides other feed.

It is impossible to note all the interesting features of the mammoth enterprise. In about two weeks the people of Janesville and vicinity will have a chance to see and judge for themselves, and they surely will declare that not the half has been said. The great American and German allied show, as it is termed, started to-day for Elkhorn where it will open the season to-morrow. The following is its route for the next two weeks at the end of which time it will reach Janesville again, when it will pitch its tents in dead earnest, and give the people here a chance.

May 1, Elkhorn; May 2, Geneva; May 3, Burlington; May 4, Waukesha; May 5, and 6, Milwaukee; May 8, Cedarburg; May 9, Hartford; May 10, Oconomowoc; May 11, Watertown; May 13, Jefferson; May 14, Whitewater; May 15 Janesville.

Personally Mr. Robbins is as popular as he is professionally, and he will go forth this season accompanied by the well-wishes of many, with whom he has come in contact socially. He is a thorough gentleman, a square business man, an enterprising showman, and a success to him and his.

THAT LITTLE GERMAN CLUB.

A number of those interested in the study of the German language and literature have formed themselves into a sort of club or club, to meet in the parlors of private residences. Last evening they enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lawrence, and held a conversational in their parlors. The chat was conducted as far as possible in the German language. Prof. Fillmore gave an interesting account of some of the scenes of which he was an eye witness in Germany, and some of the peculiarities and habits of the people. Other exercises of an informal but instructive nature filled up the evening.

SHORT AND SWEET.

A Brief Session of the City Council, and Adjournment Taken as an Accommodation.—The Pay Roll of the Fire Department Approved.

The first regular semi-monthly meeting of the new City Council convened at the City Hall, last evening, President Davies in the chair, and all the Aldermen present. As soon as the Clerk had finished calling the roll—

Ald. Church stated that it was necessary for Ald. Lawrence and himself to be excused, as they had some important private business to attend to, and therefore moved that the Council adjourn until to-morrow (Tuesday) evening. This motion was held in abeyance to allow Ald. Lawrence, from the Finance Committee to report favorably on the pay roll of the Fire Department, which report was concurred in.

Ald. Fitzgibbon stated that if the gentleman from the Third asked the Council to adjourn through courtesy to himself and Ald. Lawrence, he would vote for the adjournment. Ald. Lawrence stated that he was absolutely necessary for himself and Ald. Church to be absent; that they had some business that the would like attended to at this meeting of the Council, and wished the Council to adjourn until to-morrow (Tuesday) evening that he might attend to it.

The motion to adjourn was then put and adopted, and the Council declared adjourned until this evening, at 8 o'clock.

ON THE HALF SHELL.

The Bower City Boat Club met last evening to transact some important business, but owing to a slim attendance, it was concluded to postpone it until some more favorable opportunity. The Club concluded to instruct the Executive Committee to get plans, specifications and prices for a new four-oared boat to be used as a stake and judge's boat, and to report at the next meeting.

It was also decided that the club should during the season hold monthly meetings, the time being the first Thursday of each month.

It was also decided that the first races should be postponed until May 23. Adjournment was then taken until next Thursday evening, which will be the first regular meeting of the season.

SPECIAL FROM JOHNSTOWN.

JOHNSTOWN, April 20, 1878.—Rain, rain, rain and yet it rains, but everything out of doors is looking lovely excepting the mud, and we have had that so long that we seem to get used to it, and now it is but a merry mud puddle. The small grains are all up and growing finely, the cattle and sheep are rolling in clover, the air is perfumed with the fruit blossoms, the young birds from their cozy nests stretch up their open mouths for their breakfast, the older ones singing in the trees, and April seems to have taken the beauties of May, and who can be discontented in the country? Certainly the ladies are feeling a little chagrined as they cannot get to town for their new spring hats, and some have to stay at home from church in consequence. The farmer may be short in the pocket for want of roads to get to market, the creditor uneasy for his debt, and the student beautiful things to attract the attention of all lovers of nature, this April, that we cannot complain of the situation. Our newspapers from all parts of the country speak of the improvement in business matters, and the better time coming; of rumors of war in which we should play the part of the boy in the street, shouting the iron-clad prospect of a large crop of cereals; and can we be otherwise than encouraged by putting in a helping hand?

We shall be willing to take the bitter with the sweet; as few know how to enjoy prosperity who have never been under the iron hand of adversity; so, while a large portion of our papers are made up of scandalous literature, at this time, our own State has its share, and we must plead for a reformation among the people.

The emigration of 1877 and 1878 exceeds all other years in filling up our Western States and Territories. The farmers of New England are offering their stony farms for a mere pittance, and taking homes in the West. The seat of empire will soon pass the Mississippi, and it warns us to be steadily looking to our laurels. We cannot now compete with the West in wheat and stock raising, and new industries must be commenced and cultivated, before we get into a backward past redemption. It is not the weak-minded and foolish that can emigrate to a new country, and in proof of that we have only to look up the history of the early pioneers of our own State to satisfy the most incredulous—such men as George Doty, Morgan L. Martin, Judge Whitton, John H. Rountree, George H. Smith, David Atwood, Moses and Marshall M. Strong, John H. Tweedy, Byron Kilbourn, Henry Dodge and a host of others that helped to mark out our paths, make our laws, build our school houses, establish churches and colleges and make us what we are to-day.

We are today the memory of their story, and their memory is in our hearts, and we are finding plenty of work in building and repairing fences, mending up the tools and machinery, feeding the pigs, and nursing young lambs, etc., yet we get plenty of time this rainy weather to read the papers and talk about this early spring with the latest inhabitants.

The prospect for fruit seems good at this time, and while rain storms and tornadoes have damaged the fruit and crops, and killed many people in other places, we have escaped thus far these sad catastrophes. While some croakers are hunting for chinch bugs and prophesying the destruction of the crops by the varmints, we judge this not to be the weather in which they can thrive. Corn planting will be delayed, but any time in May will do for that, and we can then out the gophers some. The cheese factory is now nearly ready for business, and the rain will not be a hindrance to the cheese press. The churches and schools are in prosperous condition, and yet there are not enough to supply all the school m'ams that have the documents for teaching. A general time of good health central, as I hear of no one sick. Much to make us happy.

Yours truly,

A. M. C.

What a Tostering Fabric
Is a system depleted of vitality and irregular in its functions. It is only judicious and prompt medication which can save it from a speedy and total collapse. The tonic and regulating properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters particularly adapt that benign medicine to revive physical vigor and reform those bodily irregularities which are a barrier to its permanent restoration. Bilelessness and constipation are totally overcome by it, and the digestive activity and thorough assimilation which it promotes have the effect of increasing the vitality and nourishing qualities of the blood. The Bitters are also an excellent detergent of the vital current, since they communicate a healthy stimulus to the bladder and kidneys, which are the most important channels for the escape of its impurities. Pure, agreeable, and of botanic origin, thorough and prompt, but never violent in its action, the reasons for the transcendent popularity of this medicine are both cogent and appreciable. april20dew

Unsolicited Testimonials.

It would be easy to fill a whole paper with the unsolicited testimonials which have been given by physicians, clergymen, and other educated persons, in favor of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. Every professional man who has used it in his family will certify to its being wholesome, and the most perfect made.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, etc., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To all such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all druggists in America. dec20dew 15wewom

A Pardonable Pride.

Promptly most people to delay, by any laudable means that science affords, the evidences of physical decay. Who that is in perfect health would not match the bright eye, the active mind, and other appearances of youthful vigor, with the luxuriance, the rich color and beauty of youthful hair? Parker's Hair Balsam stands pre-eminent as an elegant hair dressing, and by its healthful action on the roots not only promotes a luxuriant growth of the young hair, but unfailingly restores gray or faded hair to the original youthful color, giving a soft, rich and lustrous appearance of great beauty. No other preparation so effectually removes dandruff or stops falling of the hair; its cooling and healing action entirely curing itching and humors of the scalp, and keeping the skin clean, white and healthy. It is perfectly harmless, exhalantly perfumed, and contains nothing that will soil the skin or gum the hair. It is not a dye, and is not required for excellence and purity. Buy a bottle from your druggist A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. april20dew11jan69

DIED.

BARNES.—On the 29th inst., of disease of the heart, at his residence, in the City of Beloit, B. F. BARNES, aged sixty-seven years. Mr. Barnes was a resident of Beloit for many years, and bore an unblemished reputation. A widow and five children survive to mourn their irreparable loss. Deceased suffered heavy afflictions, but his manly fortitude, and christian faith, bore him through them to a ripe old age, and he finally fell asleep in the arms of his wife and daughter, without a struggle; to await that morning whose sun shall never set.

MAGNOLIA STORE

Being desirous of changing my business and place of residence, I offer my STORE at Magnolia Corners for Sale; also my house and lot, convenient to the railroad, and well located, etc., consisting of about 200 Apple trees, in bearing (this orchard producing 200 bushels in one season), in very good condition; Cherry trees, Siberian apple Russian crab, a half dozen Pear trees, very fine Currants, Gooseberries, Raspberries, of different varieties, Strawberries and Grapes. I should prefer to sell the stock with the store. Very cheap for cash, or on easy terms for good paper. Will sell store and stock alone if purchaser desires. It is a good point for country trade.
